GENERAL POLITICS.

The committee to inform O'Conor of his nomination will meet on Tuesday. He stated to a reporter on Thursday that he considered office seeking one of the evils of the day, and he had made up his mind not to go into the business.

The Fifth Pennsylvania District Congressional Democratic Convention was held at Doylestown yesterday, and Lemington Phillips was nominated. His opponent is A. C. Harmer, at present a member of Congress.

The New York World, Herald and Tribune think the State ticket nominated at Syracuse very good. The Times is confident it will be badly beaten, and thinks the nominations of Kernan and Depew particularly weak.

A Grenada (Miss.) special says that the Republicans of that district yesterday nominated A. R. Howe, of Paola county, for Congress, on the twenty-fourth ballot, as a compromise man, and James Hill, of Marshall county, as elector.

The straight-out Democrats of Indiana, through their delegates at Louisville, have decided to call a State Convention at Indianapolis, to meet on Thursday, September 19, to nominate a ticket and perfect the organization of the party.

Carl Schurz delivered a speech to the German Lib.-Dems. of Toledo last night.

The complete official vote of North Carolina has at last been reached. The majority for Caldwell, the Republican candidate for Governor, was 1,914. On the vote for Congressmen, which is certainly a better indication of the position of the people on national questions, the Republicans of the State have a clear majority of 3,290 votes. The completeness of the indorsement of President Grant's Administration by the people of North Carolina—an indorsement so emphatically reiterated by the people of Vermont on Tuesday—is shown by these figures.

The New York World says: "It may astonish some persons to learn that the President's ring in Pennsylvania are preparing to put the enormous sum of $5,000,000 into this conflict." "It astonishes us," says the Miners' Journal, "that the arithmetician of the World, with his magnificent possibilities, didn't soar to the truth. The fact is the Republicans of Pennsylvania have a campaign fund of $5,000,000,000,000,000. Of this neat little sum, we are assured Simon Cameron contributed out of his own plethoric pocket $4,000,000,000,000,000. We have seen a man who saw Simon Cameron write a check on the banks of the Schuylkill for that amount, and who saw that check cashed."

The registry of voters in the city of Philadelphia, just completed by the canvassers, shows a total of 151,544, being an increase of 6,183 over the number of 1871. The extra assessment is yet to be made.

Hon. David Robinson, of Mercer county, who has been claimed by the Liberals, and who was appointed on the so-called Liberal Committee, authorizes the Mercer Dispatch to repudiate the connection. He is for Grant and Hartranft, heart and soul.

At the Liberal Committee meeting of Mercer county the other day, the Dispatch says, there were just six men present, and they devoted themselves to consulting spirits.

E. Joy Morris was yesterday nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Second Pennsylvania District. Morris had previously received the nomination of the Liberal Republicans.

General Dix has written a letter to W. A. Wheeler, Chairman of the New York Republican Convention, accepting the nomination for Governor, in which he says: "If the Convention deemed it of so much importance in the existing condition of things in the State and Union as to make the nomination in opposition to any expressed wish, I am sure the members must have been actuated by public considerations too strong to be disregarded on my part. I therefore waive all objections and accept it. Should it be ratified by the people, no effort on my part will be spared to aid them in the redress of abuses which dishonor the State, and which will inflict irretrievable injury on its character, unless arrested by timely and efficient remedies."

—John Strathman, on Thursday night, in New York, beat his wife terribly, concluding by smashing a kerosene lamp over her head, which exploded, burning her fatally.

—The Madrid Igualidad, replying to suggestions of English journals, indignantly repudiates the idea that Spain will part with the island of Cuba on any consideration.

—A dispatch from Wilmington states that the schooner Carlton arrived there with three officers and three passengers, who were on the burned steamship Bienville. Forty remained at Nassau.

—At Providence, R. I., yesterday, United States Steamboat Inspectors Beckwith and Hovey took the testimony of Chief Engineer King, late of the steamer Metis, relative to the disaster.

—A butcher named Eckert in Milwaukee, split his wife's head open with an ax yesterday. The citizens were about to lynch him, when the police interfered and succeeded in locking him up.

—Circumstances render it improbable that the exact number of lives lost by the Metis disaster will ever be ascertained. Thirty bodies have been recovered, and between fifteen and eighteen persons are still missing.

—It is rumored that Miss Nellie Grant is to be married to M. Duvergier Dehauranne, the author of the work on "Institutions in the United States," and a son of the distinguished historian of Parliamentary Government in France.

—John Meininger, a resident of Buffalo, N. Y., and employed on the propeller J. A. Scott, was run over by cars on the Northwestern railroad bridge over the Chicago river, in Chicago. One of his arms was cut off and other injuries inflicted.

—Paris papers of yesterday publish a rumor from an unknown source that the Geneva Tribunal has awarded to the United States damages to the amount of $30,000,000, with interest for nine years at seven per cent. per annum. No credit is given to the report.

—The Governor of Arkansas sent Maj. Gen. Upham, of the militia, and fifteen of his guards, to Pope county yesterday. They were met at the end of the track by Dodson, the Sheriff, with three companies of militia. Trouble of the gravest character is apprehended.

—A Springfield (Ill.) special says Rev. Gilbert H. Robertson arrived there last Thursday night from Louisville, and that his reception was decidedly cool. It is supposed the object of his visit is to look up evidence to disprove the charge of drunkenness presented against him in the Presbytery.

—No Egyptian force has entered Abyssinian territory, as has been asserted. Troops were stationed on the frontier some time ago to prevent incursions of Abyssinians, and they have orders not to cross it. Owing to the threatening attitude of Prince Kassi, the frontier army has been reinforced with 4,000 men.

—On the Fair Grounds at Virginia, Illinois, on Thursday afternoon, C. F. Diffenbacher, Circuit Clerk of Cass county, and Ed. Millsted quarreled, and Millsted knocked Diffenbacher down, when the latter drew a pistol and shot his assailant in the abdomen, inflicting a mortal wound. Diffenbacher surrendered himself to an officer.

—A man named Scheuaur, in New Haven, Conn, on Thursday, took an ax, brained his infant child, then struck his wife with it, fracturing her skull, and going into the cellar, cut his own throat and wrists with the ax and a carving knife. None of the parties are dead, but physicians say they cannot live. Rum and jealousy were the cause.

Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, September 6, 1872.

A rising barometer, northerly to westerly winds, and clear weather, prevail over the north-west on Saturday, and extend eastward over the upper lake region and to the Ohio Valley by Saturday evening; southerly winds and generally clear weather from the Gulf to Tennessee and for the South Atlantic States; south-easterly winds for New England, to south-westerly over the Middle States, with increasing cloudiness, and with probably areas of rain and brisk southerly winds over the lower lake regions; the temperature continue rising over the New England and Middle States.

A WARNING VOICE.

Letter from Peter Cooper to Gen. Dix in Opposition to Greeley.

HIS VIEWS OF THE CAMPAIGN AND ITS RESULTS.

The "Sage" and Andy Johnson Compared.

THE following letter has been addressed to Gen. John A. Dix, the Republican nominee for Governor of New York, by Hon. Peter Cooper:

NEW YORK, September 4, 1872.

PLEASED WITH GEN. DIX'S NOMINATION.

GEN. JOHN A. DIX—Honored and Respected Friend: Allow me to express the pleasure that your nomination for the Chief Magistracy of our State has given to myself and the millions who long for a government that will look to the establishment of justice as the only means whereby the highest welfare of the State and nation can be effectually promoted.

Your past services in behalf of our common country should inspire all with hope that the day will come when honesty and capacity will become the only passport to all places of public trust. There never was a time when we were more in need of sterling integrity and firm adherence to those principles that guided our fathers in their efforts to frame for us a constitution which they intended should establish justice, secure domestic tranquility, and promote the general welfare by "guaranteeing a republican form of government founded on the inalienable right of every man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

WHAT THE REPUBLICAN PARTY HAS DONE.

Guided by that constitution the Republican Party, united with the War Democracy of our country, has saved the nation's life, and has disbanded and paid the largest army known to modern times. Our movement has already reduced the national debt, and has saved by a policy of peace with the Indians hundreds of millions of dollars that would otherwise have been spent in carrying on a cruel war against a people that once owned the whole country, and that so lately that my own mother remembered the old "Chevaux de frise" to keep off the Indians that once stood where Duane street now crosses Broadway.

Besides all this, the party in power has kept the nation at peace at home and throughout the world, and has secured for our country a degree of prosperity unsurpassed in the history of mankind.

There is nothing that could be more cruel and ungrateful than for a Government like ours to leave four millions of emancipated slaves to the tender mercies of the class of men who have been educated to hold slaves as property, and are now acting with that part of the Democratic party who have sympathized with the men of the South in all their efforts to maintain and extend slavery.

WHO SUPPORT GREELEY.

We may well ask whether it would be wise for us as a nation to incur the tremendous responsibility of putting all at hazard in order to try the doubtful experiment of placing the Government in the hands of a party made up of all the disloyal, all the disappointed, and dissatisfied men of our country. The most of these men believe in a "white man's government." They are using all their arts to elect our esteemed friend Horace Greeley for the President of the United States. By this they hope to accomplish their purpose of regaining their "lost cause." I fear if our friend should have the bad fortune to be elected, he will find that he has lent his influence to a class of men who will use the power they gain to place the blacks under the ban of serfdom or peonage, which may be as bad, if not worse, than slavery itself. Our friend may find himself, with his best intentions, entirely powerless to control a government made up of men who believe that the "black man has no rights that the white man is bound to respect."

GREELEY AND JOHNSON COMPARED.

He should take warning by the course of ex-President Andrew Johnson, who at one time was found reprobating rebels and their rebellion in more unsparing terms than have ever been written or spoken by any other man either living or dead.

In his tirade against rebels and their rebellion he says that "treason against the Government is the highest crime that can be committed, and those engaged in it should suffer all its penalties." He declares that "treason must be made odious; that traitors must be punished and impoverished." He then says: "I hold it a solemn obligation in every one of those States where the rebel armies have been beaten back or expelled, I care not how small the number of Union men, if enough to man the ship of State, I hold it to be a high duty to protect and secure to them a republican form of government." In calling a convention to restore States, he asks: "Who shall restore them? Shall the man who gave his influence and his means to destroy the Government; is he to participate in the great work of reorganizing the Government, who brought this misery on the State? If this be so, then in truth all the precious blood of our brave soldiers and officers will have been shed in vain." He then says: "The traitor has ceased to be a citizen, and in raising rebellion became a public enemy, and has forfeited his rights to vote with loyal men."

GREELEY'S INFATUATION.

Notwithstanding all these denunciations of rebels and their rebellion, we find him using all his influence to place these very rebels in power, in connection with that portion of our country who are in sympathy with them. I am entirely at a loss to account for the infatuation that has induced my esteemed friend Horace Greeley to allow himself to be the candidate of a party so at war with all that he has written and said in denunciation of these men and the principles that control them. In conclusion, allow me to offer you, in the eighty-second year of my age, my most fervent thanks for your devotion to all the best interests of a country that I shall soon leave, with my best wishes for its continued prosperity and happiness.

Yours, with great respect,
PETER COOPER.

FAYETTE COUNTY.

A Murder Trial—Attempted Escape of Prisoners—Another Murder in the Mountains—Nomination of G. W. K. Minor, Esq., for State Senator—Failure to Agree on a Candidate for Delegate to Constitutional Convention.

UNIONTOWN, September 5, 1872.

MURDER TRIAL.

The Court room is continually crowded with people attending Court. The trial of Jacob Staup and Henry Staup, (against whom the Grand Jury returned a True Bill for the murder of Alpheus Glover, on the 2d day of August,) has been continued until next Court.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE.

Quite an excitement was aroused yesterday, by a couple of prisoners, who had just been sentenced, attempting to make their escape from the Sheriff as he was taking them back to the jail. They were easily captured after the Sheriff showed his determination to stop them by shooting at one of them.

ANOTHER MURDER.

Constable Campbell, of Perry township, this morning brought the Sheriff another prisoner charged with committing a murder yesterday, near Bannings' station in this county. Another constable is here looking for the two others, charged with committing murder some place up in the mountains.

A FALSE DISPATCH.

Our Republicans are wondering who could have sent the false dispatch to your paper on the evening of the 3d. I can assure them that it was not not sent by your humble special, even if it was my "Q" attached to it.

AGRICULTURAL.

Our farmers are rejoicing over the nice rain of this morning, although it was hardly sufficient to benefit plowing which had become pretty hard, dry work. "Q."

UNIONTOWN, PA., September 6, 1872.

STATE SENATE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE.

The conferees of this Senatorial District, composed of Fayette and Greene, met yesterday at Davidson's Ferry, on the Monongahela river, and unanimously nominated G. W. K. Minor, Esq., of Uniontown, for State Senate. Mr. Minor has been one of the foremost men of our party in this county, since 1858, and has been presented as our choice for Congress some three different times, but always failed to obtain the nomination. He has a host of personal friends both in this county and Greene, who, if there is any faith to be put in promises, will give him their hearty support, both during the canvass and at the polls. He has always been found at the polls working for the success of our ticket, regardless of all personal consideration. Has always spent his time and money freely and generously for the benefit of his party; has raised all and done all that any man would have dared to, has ever had a free and generous hand and open purse for the suffering poor, wherever found, even if he thereby deprived himself of the comforts of life. There is no man in our party, who, on account of what he has done or given for the success of the party, on account of ability to fill any position to which he aspires, or even on account of his availability, is better entitled to the honorable position for which we have nominated Mr. Minor. His friends will go into the contest heart and soul, knowing that they advocate the claims of a man who never deserted his friends, and feeling sure of success though fighting a tremendous majority.

FAILURE TO AGREE ON CONSTITUTIONAL DELEGATES.

The conferees failed to agree upon a candidate for delegate to the Constitutional Convention, Fayette voting for Colonel John Collins, Esq., who was our choice at the primary election, and Greene voting for Hon. J. B. Donley, who served one term in Congress from that district (the 24th), but was beaten, by soreheads, when he ran for the second term.

The easiest, and the right way to have settled the dispute was, and is, for the conferees to nominate both of the candidates, and then, if we fail to elect both, we know that one or the other is bound to be elected, and the people of the two counties will then decide between the two, both of whom are undoubtedly good men and well qualified. "Q."

GRAND VICTORY PROMISED.

Stirring Letter from one of Allegheny County's Heroes.

GENERAL NEGLEY ON THE BRILLIANCY OF THE POLITICAL PROSPECTS.

We take the following letter of General James S. Negley, the popular Republican candidate for Congress in the Pittsburgh district, from the Philadelphia City Item:

PITTSBURGH, September 2, 1872.

Editor All-Day City Item: You have given me occasion to acknowledge in grateful terms the assurances of friendship contained in your letter of the 26th ult. I also observe the interest you have been pleased to express in regard to the canvass in this portion of the State.

At first the furious onset made upon the reputation of gentlemen named on the State ticket, with the grotesque nomination of a "ferocious Protectionist" as the candidate for the Presidency "of a party of ferocious Free Traders," overshadowed the judgment of the people for a brief period—influencing a few Republicans who were distempered with political griefs to JOIN THE GUERRILLAS.

Since the flourish of the trumpets at the Baltimore Convention, and the happy departure of "Blanche, Tray and Sweetheart," the strength of our opponents has unmistakably declined, while the admirable organization and effective work of the Republicans, aided by the honest protest of many respectable Democrats, against the Cincinnati fiasco, has steadied our ranks and aroused the masses to a serious consideration of the fact that the rebels of the South and the rebels of the North have struck hands to secure the the payment of rebel pensions, the payment of the four hundred millions offered by Mr. Greeley to the slaveholders, and the payment of losses from the ravages of the war, similar to the claims of J. Milton Best, of Kentucky, and Thomas B. Wallace, of Missouri, which was passed after a bitter contest in the recent session of Congress, but wisely vetoed by the President, because these were test cases, and carried with them the principle that the Government should pay for all damages inflicted in actual conflict upon non-combatants.

The intelligent and conscientious friends of the Government will resent with an honest indignation this brazen attempt to vindicate the "lost cause" and summon again the presence of the tax gatherer.

The battle stands to-day in favor of the Republican ticket wherever there is the smallest Republican majority. Allegheny county will maintain her old fashioned vote in October, and win

A GRANDER VICTORY IN NOVEMBER.

With a better party discipline than ever before—with a more profound conviction than our cause is just, and a more intense determination to win, I feel assured that the illustrious administration of Gen. Grant will be continued four years longer.

Yours, very truly,
JAS. S. NEGLEY.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Its Meeting at Beaver Falls—First Day's Proceedings.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 4, 1872.

The members of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, convened in Mound Church of this place at 10 A. M., to-day, Rev. Henry Palmer, President in the chair.

After singing a suitable hymn, and prayer by Rev. C. W. Williams of Illinois, the President delivered a good, earnest sermon, using as a text the 27th and 28th verses of the first chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Collossians, Christ—his nature, attributes, character, relations, work, and what and how to preach, composed the burden of the discourse, which was both earnest and interesting, closing with a warm appeal to his brethren in the ministry to be faithful in the work assigned them.

Rev. J. S. Thrap, of Adrian, Michigan, offered prayer, and the audience joined in singing, "Joy to the world, the Lord has come." The audience was dismissed by Dr. Collier, after which the Conference proceeded to business, first in order being the presentation of delegates' credentials.

The roll was then called and about two-thirds of the members responded to their names. Adjourned to 1:30 P. M.

The Conference convened at 1:30 P. M., as per adjournment. Religious services by J. W. Rutledge. Roll called and responded to. The times for meeting and adjourning the sessions were determined as follows: Morning Session meet at 8:30, adjourn at 11:30; afternoon session meet at 1:30, adjourn at 5 o'clock.

On motion, the following Committees were constituted, viz: On boundaries, itenerary and orders, Sunday schools, statistics, college interests, missions, etc.

On motion two o'clock Thursday was set apart for the election of President, Committee on Pastoral Relations, and Conference Steward.

Pastors were requested to hand in all reports as soon as the committees are announced.

Pastor's reports were called for.

The name of the venerable George Brown D. D. being first on the list, was called, and referred to the committee on obituaries. After several other names, that of the President was called, who then proceeded to read his annual report as executive of the Conference.

J. D. Herr and James Clary have left the church during the year.

Committee on pulpit supplies announced C. H. Williams to preach in the Conference church this evening, and A. D. Brown in the Methodist church, New Brighton.

H. B. Knight was transferred to the Muskingum Annual Conference, by his own request. The afternoon was occupied in hearing pastor's reports. Most of them have been quite successful in their efforts.

BEAVER FALLS, September 5, 1872.

SECOND DAY.

Afternoon Session.—The afternoon session opened in the usual way at 1:30 o'clock. Religious exercises by W. H. Phipps. Roll called.

The Conference, by vote, decided that the President should do pastoral work. Rev. Henry Dalmer was re-elected President for the ensuing year. John Scott and John Cowl, ministers, J. H. Claney and M. L. Fleming, laymen, were elected members of the Committee on Pastoral Relations. The President of Conference is, by virtue of his office, Chairman of this Committee. Mr. Wallace was elected Conference Steward.

The Committee on Fraternal Relations reported Revs. J. H. Hamilton, W. Moore, J. B. Wilkin, and Brother and Sister Bradford present as Fraternal Delegates from the Muskingum Conference of the Methodist Church. They were welcomed, and solicited to address the Conference, which they then did.

J. W. McKeever responded in behalf of the Conference, after which the Conference sung "Together let us sweetly live," &c. The feeling that pervaded the audience was brotherly and sweet. Other visitors will address the Conference to-morrow.

The case of the widow of Dr. Reeves was referred to the Preachers' Aid Society.

Adjourned after prayer by Sister Bradford.

September 6, 1872.

THIRD DAY.

Morning session was opened with the usual devotional exercises. Roll called, and minutes of yesterday's session were read. Fraternal messengers were elected to visit several other Conferences.

An invitation from H. Hice, Esq., visit Beaver Falls Cutlery Works Saturday morning and the Chinese laborers, was accepted by vote of Conference.

Several members of Conference were granted leave of absence during the remainder of the session, sufficient reasons existing therefor. Reports of committees were called for, when that on Itinerancy and Orders made a partial report, recommending W. G. Roberts for orders and work, W. Turner, who is an elder, for admission to Conference and work, W. A. Porter for unstationed Eldership recognition, James Herbert and C. C. Conway for orders and work. Adopted.

The Committee on Obituaries reported on the death of Dr. George Brown, recommending that Conference set apart the hour of 3 P. M. to-day for memorial services, and that we co-operate with other conferences in erecting a substantial monument to his name.

Committee on Boundaries reported, recommending several changes in the boundaries of rural pastorates. It was adopted.

Rev. J. W. Ellis, of the Ohio Conference, presented his credentials, asking admission into this Conference. He was received very cordially.

James Robison, publishing agent, addressed the Conference on that interest, urging every member to do his best to advance this important interest of the Church.

Several letters addressed to the Conference were read; one from Dr. Bates, of the Maryland Conference Methodist Prot., he being Fraternal Messenger, but unable to be present.

Adjourned with prayer. C.

HENRY HARSHEY, of Ludwick, Westmoreland county, had parties threshing his oats with a machine on Saturday last, and while it was in motion he attempted to get on the platform of the horse-power, and in doing so he missed his foothold and stepped into the wheel and had his right foot and ankle crushed so that amputation was necessary. His leg was taken off that afternoon by Dr. H. G. Lomison, assisted by several other surgeons. At present there are hopes of his recovery, although he lost a great quantity of blood.

THE prisoners in the Butler jail, taking advantage of the sheriff's absence, broke jail on Friday night last at about nine o'clock. They were discovered by the lady housekeeper on duty, and the alarm sounded. Only one escaped, a prisoner charged with robbery, but without much evidence against him. They had again made their way through the slate roof, and by the assistance of quilts, sheets, etc., let themselves down.

—Hon. J. M. Weakley, State Senator from the Carlisle district and editor of the Carlisle Herald, was assaulted and violently beaten last Thursday evening by Dr. A. B. Sharp, a prominent lawyer of that place. He is now in a critical condition. Sharp has not been arrested. The quarrel grew out of a contemptuous allusion in Weakley's paper to a recent speech of Sharp's.

BURNING OF THE STEAMSHIP BIENVILLE.

The steamer Moro Castle, which arrived to-day from Havana, brought Captain Maury and forty-one of the surviving of the steamer Bienville. The number of passengers saved thus far reported is thirty-eight, and the number of officers and crew forty-six, making eighty-four in all known to be saved. The number known to be drowned is nine; the number missing from the boat five, and possibly drowned ten; the number unheard from twenty-four; total one hundred and twenty-seven. A list of the saved has been sent by telegraph, and no additional names have been reported by the arrival of the Captain.

Captain Maury makes the following report to the agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company:

SIR:—I have to report the total loss by fire of the chartered steamship Bienville, under my command, on the morning of August 15th, at sea, in latitude 25 12 north, longitude 74 15 west, by account. At 3:45 A. M., August 15th, the officer on watch called me and reported that the ship was on fire in the forehold. I gave the order to call the crew to fire quarters quietly, and to have the pumps started and steam turned on to the fire extinguishers leading into the forehold and forward freight room, at the same time keeping the ship off before the wind and hauling down the head sails, leaving the head of the jib up and stopping the engine.

Captain Maury said that he had the hose laid down to the forehatch, and endeavored to get below with water, but so great a volume of smoke came out that it was necessary to close the hatch immediately. Then he had the hatches battened over with net awnings and started the hose at the ventilator, but the steam pumps were quickly disabled and the water cut off. Meanwhile fire extinguishers and buckets were used to keep the fire under, and the boats were made ready and manned. The two large life-boats were provisioned and watered and a full supply of life-preservers was served out to all the passengers.

At 5 o'clock in the morning Captain Maury thought the fire was so far smothered that he would be enabled to run for Wattings Island, sixty-five miles distant. Captain Maury soon discovered that the fire was working its way through both sides of the ship abreast of the boiler, and that it would be necessary to abandon the vessel. The passengers then disembarked, the women and children being equally divided as nearly as possible in each boat. Two boats were safely loaded and sent off. A third was also sent off, but was caught under the current of the ship, capsized and stove. All in her were rescued and placed in another boat. At 7 A. M. all but two small boats had been loaded and sent off, and there were still more persons on board than the boat could hold. The two small boats were then sent off with passengers to be distributed among the other boats which had the lightest loads, from which they were to return to the ship. By that time the flames had gained such headway and the heat was so intense that all the remaining persons hastened into the boats as quickly as possible, and at 7:30 A. M. Capt. Maury left the ship. The flames were bursting from the cabins by this time.

The largest life-boat filled and capsized. The sea was increasing, but by the aid of the wreck of the stoven life-boat, which was floating around, they were righted and bailed. Seven or ten others, however, were lost.

An account is then given of their voyage to land, and the landing of the passengers at Nassau. One boat capsized in the surf and nine persons were drowned. None of the names of the lost are known except Mrs. Brauder and her three children. All the bodies were recovered and buried by the authorities of Eleuthera Island. There is still one boat missing. She was only moderately loaded. She was one of our best boats and was well provided with water and food.

The fire broke out between deck, immediately over the boiler, and not in the forehold, as it was at first supposed. I am unable to give the origin of the fire.

E. A. Lawlor, of Albany, gave an interesting narrative of the burning of the steamer, and the subsequent suffering of the survivors. He says about three o'clock on the morning of the 15th, smoke was discovered issuing from the hatch below the steerage deck. The donkey engine was set at work, but soon broke down, when the flames still continuing to increase, orders were issued to batten down the hatches, and to prepare to take to the boats. At seven o'clock Captain Maury ordered the life-boats launched. They were seven in number, and ought to have been capable of carrying all the passengers. The number placed in these varied from ten to thirty-two. The latter number was far too great, and some boats were unseaworthy. The sea was very rough, and terrified the passengers, who, with no land in sight, saw death staring them in the face.

The first boat launched contained twenty persons, and was swamped at the ship's stern. After much trouble, however, all the passengers in the boat were saved, and I should observe that the placing of ten persons in some boats caused an undue proportion to be thrown with others, and in this way life was unnecessarily sacrificed. The sun was blazing hot, so that our sufferings were terrible. After we had left the ship about ten minutes, the second mate, John Goff, approached in another boat, and signalized us. He told us, when he came alongside, that we must take four persons more in our boat, in which there were already twenty-seven. Three climbed in, and simultaneously with the fourth getting in our boat capsized, and we were all thrown into the sea. There were twenty-seven males and four ladies. Incredible as it may seem, the mate turned toward his ship and made no effort whatever to save us, not even the ladies.

The mate's boat took on other passengers at the steamer, and subsequently landed at James Point, on Eleuthera Island.

At the time we capsized we were distant sixty miles from the nearest island. Ten of our boat's load were drowned when she capsized. I do not know their names. A lady was among their number. I have no hesitation in saying that the responsibility therefor rests upon one whose reckless and inhuman conduct in forcing four additional persons into our already sinking boat, under the threat "Get in or I'll throw you in," that we were precipitated into the water and ten of our number drowned.

Words cannot describe our excruciating sufferings. After this the sun was intensely hot, and we clung as best we could to the gunwale of the boat for several hours, with heavy seas washing over us and a tropical sun pouring upon our uncovered heads. We were without food or water for forty-two hours, there being but one lemon to be divided among twenty-five survivors. After clinging to the boat all these long hours, the broken boat which was first capsized drifted toward us. This was our only hope, having no oars and no means by which to right our own boat, and we could not have lasted but a few moments longer. One or two who had sufficient strength managed to crawl into the broken boat, and with their hands began the work of bailing out our own boat. We all had on life preservers, otherwise none of us could have survived. In the broken boat we found one oar. Finally our boat was bailed out and we got into her. A sailor named Peter Barry, who subsequently proved himself a hero, improvised a sail, using the skirts of the ladies and shirts of the men rigged to an oar, and we made our way by this aid as best we could toward the land.

Before leaving the ship, Captain Maury told us that the nearest land was Wattings Island, and for this point we made, taking our bearings from the sun and judging our course, all having lost our watches. In the evening our sufferings were intense, with wet clothing, the great heat of the sun, and the pangs of hunger upon us. We despaired of being saved. Heavy seas were continually breaking over us, adding to our misery.

About two o'clock the steamer exploded with a tremendous report, and immediately sank, bearing everything on board with her. Nothing whatever was saved. I hope never to witness or experience such suffering as attended us after this, but cheered on by our sailor hero, all, even the ladies, bore up with fortitude and resignation. When night came we took the stars for our bearings, and kept before the wind with the strangly contrived sail. The waves ran thirty or forty feet high, and we believed, although we could see no land, that we were near it. We coasted all that night, endeavoring to find a safe landing place. It was a task of immense difficulty in the terrific gale and tremendous surf which was rolling.

About three o'clock A. M. we landed at Cat Island, San Salvador. It so happened that we landed in a calm, under the skillful pilotage of our heroic Barry, although a few moments later the storm was renewed with redoubled fury. Cat Island we found to be perfectly barren, and for a long time we believed it to be uninhabited. Our feelings, when we found no human hands to relieve our distress, and with neither food nor water, no words can describe. Several of our party started out to explore the island, and shortly before daylight some of them found several thatched huts. Upon closer examination we discovered quite a colony of colored people living in huts, who were engaged in the propagation of fruit for the New York market. They lost no time in relieving our distress and administering to our wants in every possible way. First they gave us in our famished state a very little liquor. Soon after they started fires and made gruel. An hour later we were given chicken and other substantial food, with tea, coffee, &c. Our inner wants having been satisfied, the ladies were given dry skirts, and hats, coats and shoes were distributed among the men.

Mr. Stewart, resident United States Consul at the island, was soon informed of our arrival, and immediately did all in his power to relieve us. We then sought rest, remaining here under the care of the kind-hearted natives for a day.

On the evening of the 18th Mr. Stewart provided a sail boat to convey us to Nassau. We reached Nassau about midnight of the next day, when we found that Captain Maury, with two or three other boats, had already arrived.

At Nassau we remained two weeks. The people did all they could to make us comfortable, and raised a subscription of £108 for our benefit, as we were entirely destitute. It is certain that over forty persons are missing, as there is no doubt that twenty were drowned, while one boat with thirty-two persons has not been heard from.

CARLISLE.

Trial of Dr. Schoeppe—Virtually Acquitted.

CARLISLE, September 6.—The testimony of Professor Genth, of Philadelphia, Wormley, of Ohio, and Hines, of Dickinson College, was given to-day for Dr. Schoeppe, and was very strong in his favor.

This afternoon the defense closed and the prosecution made no further effort. Dr. Schoeppe received the announcement very calmly.

Samuel Hepburn next arose, and announced to the Court that the counsel for the defense were willing to submit the case at once to the jury, with the several charges from the Chief Justice.

The Chief Justice here remarked that he had considered the moral evidence so feeble that on the hearing for binding over to answer the charge, he could not see how he could have done so, further remarking that he believed it was God's providence which alone had saved the Court and the former jury from committing a great wrong. He considered it remarkable that though the relatives of Miss Steinecke were present at her death-bed, and knew of all the circumstances, they did not deem it necessary to have a coroner's inquest, and expressed no suspicion of foul play until after the production of the will by the prisoner. The Chief Judge then said he believed it to be his duty to deliver a formal charge, and he wouldprepare it by nine o'clock to-morrow, to whichtime he then adjourned the court.

Dr. Schœppe stands virtually acquitted, and a formal announcement of "not guilty" will be made to-morrow morning.

STATE NEWS.

FEVER and dysentery are prevalent in Butler.

EXCAVATIONS in Oil City have developed a set of harness in one of the principal streets. They are now looking for the wagon.

THE Democratic Mayor of Oil City "can't swallow Greeley" and his own convictions at the same time, so he repudiates "Horus."

DANIEL MOYERS, aged ninety-three years, and a soldier of the war of 1812, died at Augustus Metter's in Aleppo township, Greene county, August 20th.

THE Liberals and Democrats of the Erie Congressional District have nominated General Thomas L. Kane, of McKean county, for Representative in Congress.

THE conferees of the Dem.-Libs. of the Clearfield Senatorial District have nominated George A. Aughenbaugh, of Clinton, and John G. Hall, of Elk, for Delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

GROUND has been broken in Butler for a new gas works, and the citizens are clamoring for a new water works. That county has now a number of flourishing oil wells, and it wants to prepare for a big influx of strangers.

THE apple crop is so plentiful that all the old cider mills and presses of the country are being put in order. Hand presses are also in demand in some localities, and improved new presses, to supply an entire neighborhood with facilities to make cider.

A YOUNG lad named Logan, a nephew of A. L. Robinson, Esq., of Armstrong county was thrown from a horse on Monday last, and had his leg broken at the thigh. Dr. Beatty, of Kittanning set the fractured limb and the little sufferer is doing well.

THE Washington Review says: Ground has been broken on the eastern end of the Hempfield Railroad. Work has been commenced at the crossing of the river at Bellvernon, and in a few days a force will be at the Brady tunnel, one mile east of Washington.

THE oil men at Parker's Landing seem determined to stop production. A correspondent says: "The producers at Parker are organized so that not a spade can be used or a still set up but that they know it. Production, or rather development, must stop. Should any one be so fool-hardy as to commence operations in defiance of the wishes of nine-tenths of the operators, their wells will never be completed."

ANOTHER case: a few days ago, three sons of George Deems, of West Pike Run township, Washington county, preparing to retire for the night, Jackson Deems pulled a pistol from his pocket, to lay away, and while in his hand it was accidently discharged, the ball which was a small one, passed into the breast, and through the lungs of his brother Harvey. The boy is lying in a very precarious condition.

LAST WEEK a young man named Wm. Widowson, of Canoe township, Indiana county, was severely injured, under the following circumstances. He was carrying in his pocket a pistol, loaded with a heavy charge of powder and ball, and while chopping with an ax, the handle struck the pistol discharging it, the ball penetrating his leg about six inches above the knee, making a severe, though not necessarily dangerous wound.

BREVITIES.

....A bill clerk is advertised for in to-day's paper. The house is a first-class one.

....Yesterday was another warm day, and those who had bought fall over coats within the last few days looked sort of sold.

....An interesting letter from our Dublin correspondent having been crowded out this morning, will appear in Monday's GAZETTE.

....A new sixty-foot planer was yesterday started in the Machine shops of Jones & Laughlin, which planes fifteen feet per minute.

....Councils meet on Monday. Two very important ordinances will come before them. The Railroad ordinance and increasing the police force.

....The first installment of the books purchased by the Brewer fund were received at the Mercantile Library yesterday and placed in the new alcoves.

....The members of a New York brass band, about twenty-five in number, passed through the city yesterday noon on their return from the Louisville Convention.

....An alarm of fire was sounded from box 2 last evening a few minutes before nine o'clock, occasioned by a slight fire in the planing mill of Messrs. Bunton & Miller, on the corner of Second and Penn streets. Some boards, which had been placed above the boiler to dry, caught fire, but were extinguished before any damage was done.

....A young married couple arrived at the Union Depot yesterday, and took seats in the ladies' waiting room. The groom was informed that gentlemen were prohibited in that apartment. He paid no attention to this however, and Officer Woolridge was called. He remonstrated with the man, at which the groom proposed to whip the officer. This was not agreeable to the latter, who escorted the pugilistic youth from the room, followed by the bride.

....The Colored Club was attacked twice last evening though fortunately no one was hurt. Once while on Webster avenue a short distance below the speaker's stand, some boys threw stones into their ranks; and another time near the stand a stone was thrown into the crowd. If this thing is continued something serious may result from it. No doubt most of the mischief is done by boys but it is probable that they are encouraged by older persons—or at least they are not discouraged.

GERMANY.

MOVEMENTS OF THE CZAR.

BERLIN, September 6.—Bismarck had a long interview with Emperor Elexander yesterday. Prince Gortschakoff was present. The Czar attended the opera last night with Emperor William and all the members of the Royal family. This morning he drove alone in the Thiergarten, and on his return to the Russian embassy received Generals Moltke and Wrangel, and other distinguished officers of the Prussian army. During the day the Czar again visited Emperor William, and also called on the Crown Prince and other members of the Royal family.

ARRIVAL OF FRANCIS JOSEPH.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria arrived this evening from Dresden, and was received at the railway station by Emperor William with precisely the same ceremony and attentions which were accorded to the Czar. As the two German Emperors rode side by side through the streets the cheering was incessant, and the popular enthusiasm was even greater than that displayed yesterday.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

GENERAL.

IT is estimated that the Maryland Lutheran Synod loses annually three or four hundred members, who emigrate to the west and elsewhere, and are lost to the Lutheran Church.

THE annual meeting of the Missionary Society and Board of Missions of the Evangelical Association (Albright Methodists), will be held at Warren, Pa., commencing October 11th next.

REV. M. B. WHARTON, of the Walnut street Baptist church, Louisville, Ky., baptized Sabbath two weeks ago, a Roman Catholic lady, for many years a prominent Sister of Charity.

THE Board of Managers of the Freedman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at a late meeting in Cincinnati, took action, asking the churches to contribute one hundred thousand dollars for its operations during the coming year.

THE Moravian claims that the Moravians organized the first missionary society in this country, under the name of the Society of the United Bretheren for Propogating the Gospel, at Bethlehem, Pa., in 1787, and incorporated in 1788. Its special work was the support of missions among the Indians.

CONSIDERABLE discussion has been awakened in the Southern Methodist Church, on the question of fraternal greetings by the Methodist Episcopal Church. Most of the Southern papers favor fraternal intercourse, but oppose organic union at present, until certain disputes are settled.

THE assertion that Protestant ministers leave their churches in summer, while the Roman Catholic churches remain open, is answered by the Christian Intelligencer. It gives instances of priests in New York, going in crowds to country places, to indulge in boating, fishing, different kinds of pleasure, for amusement and recreation.

REV. HUGH STOWELL, the distinguished Baptist preacher of Liverpool, England, who recently arrived in New York, is noted for the character of his subjects, especially preaching to the masses, as "The Devil's Meal is all Bran," "There's Nae Luck about the House," "Penny Wise and Pound Foolish," "Stop Thief," "Five Shillings and Costs," "Taking Care of Number One," etc.

THE REV. S. W. CRAWFORD, D. D., the oldest minister in the Reformed Presbyterian denomination, will preach to-morrow in the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, on Oak alley. Dr. Crawford is now eighty years of age, but still preaches with much of the remarkable vigor that characterized him in earlier days. He is the father of Major General Crawford, who was in command of General Anderson when Fort Sumter was besieged.

THE summary of the Presbyterian Church, as a re-united body, during the past three years, raised in its ecclesiastical capacity, $27,624,353, of which $6,888,627 have gone to benevolent causes, leaving over $20,000,000 for pastoral salaries, church buildings, repairs, &c., in the support of the particular churches themselves. The installations number 401 against 249 the preceding year, while the pastoral dissolutions were about the same in both years. There has been only 139 dissolutions in three years; while 489 new churches have been organized, and the total number on the rolls is now 204, greater than it was three years ago. In the three years, forty-three churches have been received from other bodies, and twenty-three dismissed. There has been received one hundred and fifty ministers, and sixty-seven dismissed. The additions to the church show an average of six conversions in each Church in a year.

LOCAL.

THE improvements in progress on the St. John's Catholic Church, Birmingham, will soon be completed.

THE Rev. R. B. Ewing's congregation—Tenth U. P. Church, East Liberty—recently gave him $260, and sent him off for a month's recreation.

THERE will be Divine Service in the Fourth U. P. Church, corner Penn and Seventh streets, at 10½ A. M. and 3 P. M., by the Rev. John Gailey.

THE sermon of Rev. Dr. Jacobus in the First Presbyterian church, on Sabbath morning will have reference to the late Isaiah Dickey, an esteemed member of the Central church.

REV. I. W. MCKEEVER has been elected by the Board of Publication as one of the editorial contributors to the Methodist Recorder, [non-Episcopal] to fill the vacancy occasioned by the withdrawal of Rev. J. D. Herr.

REV. J. S. HAWK has resigned the pastorate of Westminster Church, East Liberty, in this city, on account of continued ill health. He expects to remove to Colorado, in hope that he will be able to recover his health in that favorable part of the country.

REV. D. MACFIE, of Edinburgh, Scotland, will preach under the auspices of the Wylie avenue church, on Sabbath evening, in the hall of the Eleventh ward public school house, at 7½ o'clock. Seats free and a cordial welcome extenended to all.

THE REV. CYRUS NIXON, of New York, Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, is at present the guest of W. A. Herron, Esq., of the Fourth ward. Mr. Nixon is now en route to his home, after an extended tour throughout the Northwest.

THE regular meeting of the Local Preachers' Association of Pittsburgh and vicinity will be held at Liberty street Church, Pittsburgh, commencing this (Saturday) evening at 7½ o'clock, and continuing on the Sabbath. There will be preaching by some of the local preachers in the different churches.

THE Allegheny Conference of the Asrican M. L. Zion's Church met at Washington, Pa., not long since, Bishop Moore presiding. In connection with the usual routine of business, a paper and resolutions were adopted on "The State of the Country," setting forth that the Republican party was the hope of the colored race.

THE Methodist Recorder thus fraternally bids farewell to the Rev. J. D. Herr: Brother J. D. Herr, pastor of the Third Methodist [non-Episcopal] Church, Pittsburgh, has been released, at his own request, from that pastoral charge, and has taken his letter from the President with a view of permanent Union with the Baptist Church. Brother Herr has been one of the most successful ministers in our church, has occupied prominent positions, and now retires in good standing, in the disciplinary way, to assume new relations and to continue his warfare for Jesus in another regiment of the great army. He bears our best wishes personally, and the esteem and good will of the church he leaves. While we lament the step he has taken, and fear his new associations may be long in becoming equal to his large Methodistic friendships and attachments, we wish him abundant prosperity in whatever field he may be called to labor."

THE Post has objected to General Hartranft that he is not an orator. What does it think of Buckalew in that line? If a poorer stick were ever put up to make a speech, before a Pittsburgh audience, we have not happened to hear of it. There is nothing in him, and plenty of Democrats hereabouts are confessing it with sorrow.

THE Post is keeping up a jangle about the proprietors of this paper not voting for McJunkin for Congress. As none of the proprietors of the GAZETTE live in his district, they are not entitled to vote there. This form of falsehood, indulged in by the Post, may be smart, but it does not pass for much in these days. Lying, direct or indirect, is not considered an accomplishment.

THE Republicans of Missouri seem to have happily settled their differences of last year and the year before at the late State Convention. The candidate for Governor, ex-Senator John B. Henderson, has a national reputation gained by his brilliant term in the United States Senate. He gave way to Carl Schurz, we believe, and before his gubernatorial term is out will likely find his way back to his old place at Washington.

IT will be a gratifying fact to the numerous friends of George W. Cass, Esq., of this county, to learn that he has been elected President of the Northern Pacific Railroad, to take the place of Mr. Smith, of Vermont, resigned. This road is being pushed forward with wonderful energy and success. It has two Pittsburgh men at its head: General Cass as President and Milnor Roberts as Chief Engineer—and in their respective spheres of action they have no superiors in the country.

THE Post was premature in crowing over a victory even at a municipal election in little Delaware. The real contest at the recent election in Wilmington was not on Mayor, but on the election inspectors, and this shows that the Republicans hold their own—receiving on this vote over two hundred majority. The Republicans still maintain their ascendancy in the Council, having twelve members to nine Democrats. The ballot box tells the same story everywhere.

WE had no purpose to frighten the Post editors out of all sense of dignity by alluding to the lamp-post dangers to which they were exposed, by their glaring disloyalty during the war. Yet, judging from what they say, they are afraid that we will come around and prepare to string them up. Keep perfectly quiet, good neighbors, we have reached our purpose. So long as Senator Wilson is treated with some show of decency, and we are pleased to notice great improvement in this particular, so long may you pursue your own sweet way. But a break over in that regard will lead to the mention of the particulars of an event, which did not come very far from the lifting up the Post editors, by means of a rope and lamp post, because of their virile disloyalty during the war.

RUSSIA has very decidedly gained the lead in grain shipments to Great Britain, notwithstanding the great stress laid by the Free Traders on our foreign grain shipments. Russia and the United States are the two great sources of supply for the English. In the first seven months of 1871, there was hardly any difference between the amount of grain sent by the two countries to Great Britain, the value from each reaching four and a quarter millions of pounds; but in the first seven months of this year, the value of Russian exportation to England reached £5,549,960 to £2,392,528 from the United States to England. Russia has thus very decidedly gained the lead. The explanation of this is, that by the protection and nourishing of our home industries, we are creating a home market for farm products, and do not need to send them abroad.

THE Philadelphia North American points out the fact that in some of the counties and districts where the Republicans are in a minority, there is a danger they may even lose the minority representative to the Constitutional Convention. For instance, where there are three delegates to elect the legal provision insures one of the places to the weaker side; and it would be the better policy, therefore, not to divide our strength by placing more than one person in nomination, as is being done in some cases; for in the possibility of a tie, each voter being permitted to vote for two candidates, our representative would fail; whereas, by putting the whole vote upon one man he will go into the Convention the accredited representative of no faction, but of his entire constituency. Therefore, in minority districts, it is clear the Republican vote should not be divided on two candidates.

THE wisdom of the Dispatch shines conspicuous these days. It imagined, yesterday, it had somehow found an inconsistency between the editorial and reportorial columns of the GAZETTE. Of course there was none, and equally of course the Dispatch knew it. In one case we offered such strictures on the Mayor's course as seemed to us proper, and we see nothing as yet to lead to a change of view. Our reporter made allusion to putting eight extra men, detectives, on some of the beats. That these men did not perform the work of the twenty-nine discharged officers is simply proven by the complaints from the outer and dangerous wards. The Mayor acted hastily. His excuses are exceedingly flimsy. He objects that to have re-arranged the beats would have occasioned too much labor. In our view it was his duty, at all hazards, to have secured a meeting of the Police Committee, and obtained some action from it before summarily discharging the men; and any attempt on the part of the Dispatch to mend the matter won't pass for much.

THE Dem.-Liberals of New York have concluded their two days' convention labors, and the only name of national repute that stands on their joint ticket is that of that happy merry-go-round, "Sunset" Cox of everywhere, for Congressman at large. If we are to have a Democratic Congressman from New York, let it be Cox by all means; but we are afraid he endangers his chances by giving up a district for a State nomination. The candidate for Governor—Chief Justice Church having declined as absolutely as Charles O'Conor did the Bourbon nomination—is Mr. Kernan, an interior lawyer of fair reputation who has served one term in Congress. His availability is entirely of the negative order, and as against General Dix his lack of all positive qualifications for the position, should ensure Kernan's defeat. Depew, nominated for Lieutenant Governor, is a renegade Republican, who, a year ago was accused by the World with great vehemence, with forging the census figures of the State for political purposes. We have enough electoral votes, sure, and to spare, without New York, but the action of this mongrel convention in the ticket it presents, seems to us to remove the State from among the list of doubtful. General Dix has great personal popularity from one end of the State to the other, and his enthusiastic advocacy by the commercial and financial interests of the metropolis, will doubtless make the revolt from Tammany of last year a permanent one, and fix the Empire State firmly in the Republican line.

THE Leader takes offense at the use of the term rebel, and goes into an abstract argument to show that there are no rebels. This over, and it makes the usual assertion that Hartranft is guilty of crime, and that Buckalew is a pure man. If its argument has any point at all, it is in applying the statute of limitations to Buckalew's crimes, and refusing to show any favor to Hartranft. Now as to this entire case, we use the term rebel in the conventional sense, to indicate those who fought us in the war, and who are at heart hostile to us still. In our view, for a Northern man to give aid and comfort to rebels,—no matter how long since,—shows certain defects of moral character as forever to render that person unworthy of confidence, unless he shows signs of repentance. The war was not a farce,—it was a deadly reality. During all that war, Buckalew, as Senator of the United States, voted with Garret Davis, in favor of every measure that would injure the North, and in opposition to every thing that would aid the North. He held the Fishing Creek Camp Meeting, despite his denial of the fact. He visited rebel commissioners at Niagara, and corresponded with the rebel Government. Now we say this is a crime,—a thousand times worse than all that has been alleged against Hartranft. And there is no statute of limitations in such a case. If he were to lead a quiet, private life, all this might not be called up. But we say again, that while we can forgive rebels, we'll not have the unrepentant class of them to rule over us.

MR. BUCKALEW AT THE ACADEMY.

We accord to Mr. Buckalew dignity, moderation and courtesy as a public speaker. In these days of heated political controversy that is saying a great deal, and is about all that can be said in his favor by the most earnest advocate of his election. He is sadly lacking in force and argumentative power. Analyze any of his well turned periods, and there is "nothing in it."

In his speech at the Academy, he studiously ignored Greeley or any reference to national politics, but paraded the fact that he was there to discuss State matters solely. Well, he did in a manner, but what manner? Simply by reciting a well conned speech full of generalities—not in the least "glittering" or attractive. The burthen of his story was corruption and mismanagement in some of the departments at Harrisburg. That was stated broadly, but no specific act advanced, or the least jot or tittle of evidence presented to sustain his sweeping charges. He utterly failed to meet the issues he himself raised. It was precisely as if one of the street preachers, for whom Pittsburgh was famous years ago, should take his stand at the junction of Smithfield and Liberty streets and bellow forth that the business men of Smithfield street are swindlers and the men of Liberty corruptionists, without advancing a particle of evidence to sustain the allegation. What would be thought of such nonsense? And when the speaker modestly proposes to take charge of the vast interests of those commercial centres and remedy the wrongs he wildly charged, would he be not thought wild or insane, or possibly an opium dreamer? Yet this was precisely all of Mr. Buckalew's speech not devoted to a defence of his own loyalty. There is something wrong in the State house at Harrisburg; what it is I do not care to tell; but put me there and I will make everything blooming. Now, if Mr. Buckalew came here to teach our people their duty in a great emergency or public peril, he should have come prepared with specific allegations backed by the proof. He did not. He had merely a budget of loose assertions which he presented very prettily—nice enough in fact, for a young ladies' seminary. The Democrats were disappointed in their champion. They expected something vastly different.

As to the defence Mr. Buckalew made of his loyalty at home and in the Senate, it is only necessary to say it occupied fully as much of his time as his dealings with State policies. He rightfully seemed to think it a matter of moment. And it is too, to the people of Pennsylvania, that no sympathizer with treason, when the very existence of our State and Nation were imperiled, should creep into the Executive chair of the Commonwealth under the specious pretext of reforming abuses losely alleged and totally unsupported by evidence.

"BY THEIR FRUITS."

We have not the slightest fear that the Democratic-Liberal party will succeed in the coming election. On the contrary, we believe it will be the worst beaten party that ever came before the American people for their suffrage. Already it has been deserted by hosts of Democrats, and even should the Louisville Convention not result in an organized canvass, it significantly shows that a vast Democratic vote, made up of the better element of the party, will not vote for Greeley. North Carolina and Vermont has sealed his fate. They have shown that the masses are loyal to Republicanism, and that there is no fear of them. Yet it is worth while to look at the pretention of the Democracy, and the record with which they support it.

The pretence on which they claim power, both in the State and nation, is reform. Where, let us ask, did the democracy ever contribute to real reform? It is a singular fact, as regards our State funds, that the accession of the democracy to power in the State has been followed by a sudden increase of the State debt. So uniform and unvarying has been this result, that it cannot fail to inspire suspicion as to the effect of any subsequent accessions to power. Yet Mr. Buckalew makes this the strong card why he should be elected; and this in face of the fact, that under Republican administration, for years past, the debt has been steadily reduced. We submit that probabilities of reform in these cases, do not go for much. We take little stock in the promises made. The democracy never has improved our State finances, while the Republican party invariably has accomplished this result. The choice in this case can be easily made.

Mr. Greeley and his colaborers, Schurz, Trumbull, Sumner and others, are full of reform. No one can imagine the extent to which the Government is to be reformed under their management. The Presidency is to be limited to a single term, civil service reform is to be hurried forward, the Treasury is to be emptied of its surplus gold, and in general things are to be revolutionized,—for the better they say. What have they done in all the past, to give confidence in these assurances? The credit of the country steadily declined under Democratic management, till in Buchanan's time, it was nearly impossible to negotiate a loan, and a financial revulsion was brought on that swept down all the great business interests of the country. The question is, whether the Democratic party, with such a record, is at all likely to work out any problem of reform.

As for Greeley himself, he has nothing in his past record to give much promise for the future. He started out originally as a partner in the political trading firm of Weed, Seward and Greeley, and dissolved it because he did not get his share of patronage. In his later political life he has been conspicuous for his clamor that his friends be appointed to office. His theories of financial management have been particularly unsound, while his cry of amnesty at the close of the war was exceedingly ill-timed. He is regularly imposed upon by adventurers, and of late has been in affiliation with the Tammany ring. If all this promises anything in the way of real reform, we fail to see it. It would be impossible for him to do it. His associations are such, and he is held so strongly under the influence of the associations about him, that he cannot attempt reform.

On the other hand, the Republican party has always been devoted to improvement and reform. General Grant has honestly attempted to develop everything in the way of solid reform that has been fairly and responsibly suggested. In his civil service reform movements, he has gone in in the face of some of his best friend. Yet he has gone steadily and unswervingly on. The public credit needed to be improved; he at once adopted the policy of steady consecutive payments, from month to month, and the result is the elevation of our credit, at home and abroad. If defaulters, or peculators have been discovered, they have been remorselessly punished. So that, as the result of President Grant's administration thus far confidence, prosperity and peace have been given to the people.

These are among the reasons why Greeley will be so generally repudiated, and Grant so triumphantly elected. The remark is common among the laboring classes that as we have prosperity, we will do wisely to let well enough alone. It is the key-note to the thoughts of the people. Grant has been tried, and found to be safe. Greeley has never shown practical ability of any kind. Consequently, there is danger in turning aside from a person of practical merit, to one of mere theory. Out of all this thinking will come action; and the ballots cast in November next will rule Mr. Greeley to private life, or the editorial sanctum, from which possibly, he will not be tempted again to leave for the thorny path to political preferment.

FROM the report of the Bureau of Statistics we learn that the total product of cereals in the United States, during the year 1871, was 1,528,776,100 bushels, being in the ratio of 396 bushels to each inhabitant. Of this amount 991,898,000 bushels were corn; 230,722,400 were wheat, and 255,743,000 were oats. The wool product of the United States during the same year was 177,000,000 pounds, and of the entire world 1,121,519,000 pounds.

PERSONAL.

MRS. GEN. SICKLES leads the fashions in Madrid.

MISS PRAEGER, of Milwaukee, weighs only 535 pounds.

THE doctor's work fills six feet of ground, but the dentist's fills an acher.

GEN. GLASGOW, United States Consul at Havre, has just married an American widow in Paris.

A STATUE of the late Chief Justice Taney is now being built in front of the Annapolis State House.

NEVADA newspapers talk of a "wild girl" as something extraordinary. They're very common hereabouts.

REV. DR. BELLOWS will return to the United States about the end of this month. He is receiving many attentions in England.

GUSTAVE DORE has postponed his visit to America for five centuries, so that there need be no hurry in preparing for his reception.

MRS. JOHN A. DIX, who has been passing the summer with her daughter in England, returned on Wednesday in much improved health.

THE Crown Princess Victoria, of Prussia, has offered a prize of $8,000 for the best essay on advancing the material prosperity of workingwomen.

IT will be interesting to the ladies to know that the ex-Empress Eugenie now dresses almost entirely in red and black, and that her beautiful hair is beginning to show threads of silver.

MR. ABRAHAM FIRTH, who has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the eastern division of the Boston and Albany Railroad, has been in the railroad business thirty-three consecutive years.

MISS EMILY FAITHFULL, who will shortly arrive in this country to discuss the woman question, is a lady of wealth and high social position, and an intimate friend of Queen Victoria. She devotes her life and money to the elevation of her sex.

GEORGE P. DOWNING, proprietor of the restaurant attached to the House of Representatives, at Washington, has a daughter who is very accomplished, and one of the best educated ladies in Newport.

LOUIS SCHADE, who was counsel for Wirz, the Andersonville murderer and Col. Drinkard, who was chief clerk of the War Department under the rebel Secretary Floyd, were among the delegates from the District of Columbia to the Louisville Convention.

A DISTRESSING CASE of suicide is reported in the Paris journals. M. Lemond, proprietor of a large porcelain and glass warehouse, situated No. 88 Rue du Faubourg du Temple, had been married for some years. His wife feeling indisposed, a doctor was sent for: she soon became worse, and her husband then determined on having a consultation. At the close M. Lemond begged the medical man to inform him as to the real state of the invalid, and was told that the malady was mortal. He grew suddenly pale, went into his room, loaded a pistol, and discharged it into his heart, falling lifeless on the floor. His wife expired soon after, and the two funerals were to take place on the same day.

THE METIS DISASTER.

Additional Dead Bodies Found—Loss of Life Greater than at First Computed.

The additional details which are daily coming to light make it evident that the loss of life in the sinking of the Metis was greater than was at first computed. As the only persons who were in a position to give even an approximate idea of the numbers on board the ill-fated vessel were interested in representing the calamity in the most favorable light, little reliance can be placed on their testimony. That this is painfully true is rendered evident by the finding of other bodies, when the number of living and dead already rescued from the waters exceed the official computation. The agents of the company seem to have confined their statements to those whose presence on board was capable of proof, or, in other words, they have given only the number of the registered. Those in the habit of traveling on our river steamboats know that there are many people who never go to the trouble of registering. It is therefore to be feared that we shall never know fully the extent of the disaster; but what we already know is sufficient to prove that there was a failure of duty somewhere. We hope the government will not fail to institute a careful inquiry into all the circumstances of the collision. It ought to be possible to throw such safeguards about traveling in comparatively smooth waters as would prevent terrible loss of life within easy each of the shore. There can be no doubt in the minds of thoughtful men that had the supply of boats on the Metis been equal to the accommodation of the entire number of the passengers and crew, as they ought to be, the loss of life which resulted from the collision would, in all probability, not have occurred.

WHAT is expected to be the final trial of Laura D. Fair, for the murder of A. P. Crittenden, is to be commenced on Monday next, 9th inst. The murder occurred on the 12th of November, 1870, nearly two years ago. The trial was begun on the 28th of March, 1871. A verdict of murder in the first degree was returned by the jury, on the second of June following, when sentence of death was pronounced by Judge Dwindell. The execution was to have taken place on the 28th of July, in the same year; but thanks to the ever-fertile resources of counsel, the case was carried for review to the Supreme Court. A new trial was subsequently ordered, on the ground that the Court below had erred in not permitting counsel for the prisoner to make the closing argument. On the 8th of June, an attempt to procure a change of venue proved a failure. All the devices for delay having now being exhausted, the probability is that the trial will proceed without further ado. It is said that Mrs. Fair's counsel rely very strongly on their power to relieve her of much of the odium which has been cast upon her, through former associations. Witnesses have been procured for this object, and what with a brand new defense, and the additional advantage of having the excitement occasioned by the murder pass away, it would scarcely surprise any one if the verdict of the second jury should reduce the crime to manslaughter in the fourth degree.

BALANCE.

Has been in successful operation for over 3 years. Has, in every case, when properly fitted to the windows, given general satisfaction. It completely does away with the old style of cords and weights; has none of the vexatious annoyances of that old plan; does not get out of order, and is warranted to wear and work satisfactory as long as the window remains.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 6, 1872.

The local money market continues quiet, and there is no perceptible change in the working of home financial matters. The banks are discounting liberally and borrowers experience no trouble in securing what loans they need to keep the wheels of trade moving along smoothly. Outside the banks capital is plenty and affords relief in most instances where regular institutions are unable to give it. The payments for coal, iron and oil that are daily coming in amount to enough to keep up the line of deposits so as to prevent any contraction in loans.

The trade of the city, notwithstanding the political excitement, is fair, and will no doubt be largely increased as the fall advances. The pig metal market is quite active; a sale of 1,000 tons founders iron was made yesterday at $56 per ton.

The following quotation show how the money market stands at other points. The Philadelphia Ledger says:

There is a good demand for money at bank, the supply there being rather short. Of course, all the loans by the banks are at 6 per cent., while on the street, money on call continues in fair supply, and may be commanded on Government collateral at 6@6½ per cent., and other collateral of high grade 6½ to 7 per cent. Prime endorsed paper sells readily at 7 to 7½ per cent.

The New York Times says:

The loans have involuntarily decreased about seven millions in the past fortnight, and we hear no pressure for discounts, from any quarter, although trade is extremely active, especially in the dry goods line, domestic as well as as foreign.

The value of the gold coinage issued by the English mint, during the year ending on the 30th of June, was $66,493,290, and in silver coin $4,980,690.

Local securities continue quiet. There was some inquiry for Columbia Oil, but no sales reported. Real estate is still active, reports of some large sales being made to-day, the particulars of which have not yet been made public.

NEW YORK, September 6, 1872.

Money easy; closed at 4@5. Sterling heavy and lower; 108¼@108⅜. Gold weak and lower, declining from 113¼ to 112⅝, with the latest business at 112¾@112⅞. Loans from 5 to 1-32 for carrying. Clearings $40,000,000. Governments heavy and declined ¼ to ⅜ per cent. in sympathy with the decline at London and fall in gold here. The failure of Lamb, Nash & Co., West India merchants of London, with liabilities £200,000, probably caused the decline of securities in London to-day. Southern bonds dull and neglected. Stocks more active and lower this morning, but in the afternoon a sharp rally took place, led by New York Central, on which it is rumored a five per cent. semi-annual dividend will shortly be paid. This stock ranged from 98¼ to 99¾, with large dealings. Pacific Mail was next in point of interest, and was quite active towards the close of the day. There were free purchases of Wabash to-day by parties who bought it to control the October election. Erie strong and advanced, in sympathy with the upward movement at London. The market closed strong.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY September 6, 1872.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand for the better grades and we can report regular sales of solid packed at 18 to 20 for medium to prime and 22 for choice; fancy brands 24 to 25. Low grade butter is in good supply and dull.

BEANS—$2,50@3 per bushel.

CHEESE—Is still quoted firm and with a continued good demand and a comparatively light supply, the recent advance is fully sustained; Dairy 12½@13; Factory 13¼@14; Goshen 14½@15. Sweitzer unchanged at 15@17, as to quality and condition.

COUNTRY LARD—8@9 cts. per lb.

CEMENT—Louisville Cement, $2 to $2,50 per bbl; Rosendale, $4 to $4,25; French's Calcined Plaster, $4@4,50; Land Plaster, $2,50@3. Perrysburg Lime, $1,75@$2.

CARBON OIL—Is unchanged; 19¼@20 cts. by the car load, and 1@2 cts. additional for smaller lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,50 per case.

EGGS—There is a steady demand and fresh receipts are selling on arrival at 22 to 23 cts.

FRUITS—The receipts of apples continue very meagre, and the supply here is very much reduced; and with an increased demand prices are a shade better; we now quote at $1@1,50 per bbl. for common to medium and $1,75@2 for choice. Peaches continue to arrive freely but with a steady demand prices are maintained, $1,50@2,25 per box as to quality. Plums $4 to $5 per bushel. Grapes dull at 5 to 6 cts. per lb. Watermelons $10 to $20 per 100, according to quality, size and condition.

FLOUR—Is quoted easier in all the leading markets including New York and Liverpool, and this, of course, is not without its effect here; however, there is a good local trade with some orders from the country and prices are fully maintained: we continue to quote spring wheat at $7,50@8 for fair to choice Wisconsins; $8,25 for choice Minnesotas; $8,50 for good new red winter wheat and $8,75 for choice old. Some of the country millers near by are buying flour here to supply their customers. from which it is reasonable to infer that flour is cheaper relatively than wheat. Rye Flour $5,50.

GRAIN—There is a fair stock of Wheat and, the market is rather quiet, though prices are sustained; we are reported sales at $1,65 to $1,70 for good to prime red; $1,75 for amber, and $1.80 for white. A considerable amount of Wheat has been shipped from here to different points along Penn'a. R. R., and orders are still coming in from these points, but not so freely as formerly. Old Oats may be quoted steady at 42 to 43 cts; sales of 3 cars to arrive, buyers furnishing sacks, at 42; and one car on spot at 43. New Oats unchanged at 37 to 40, as to quality and condition. Rye is reported dull and cannot fairly be quoted above 75@80 cts. Shelled Corn is in fair demand at 57@58 cts, and the same quotations will answer for ear. Barley is quoted at 88 to 90 cts.

GROCERIES—Trade is rather better, but there is still plenty of room for improvement. Sugars are moving pretty freely, we mean refined goods, and prices are firm but unchanged. Coffees continue weak; importers are still anxious to unload, and prices within the past few days have dropped a full cent, and the tendency continues downward.

SUGARS—Granulated 13¼; Crushed 13¼; Powdered 13¼; "A" Coffee, 12; B, 11⅞; Extra C. syrups, 65; good, 55; fair, 50; common, 35@40; blackstrap, 25.

RICE—Carolina, 9¼@9¾; Rangoon, 7¾@8; Patna, 8 to 8½.

COFFEE.—Fancy, 24½; prime, 23½, good, 22½; fair, 22; roasted, 25.

SYRUPS.—Fancy drips, 70; white; choice 11⅞; Circle C, 11¼; Chespeake Ex C 11¼; Knights, Ex C, 10½; C. Yellow, 9¼.

HAY—Is coming in more freely and the market, in consequence, is easier; we now quote baled, on wharf and track, at $28 to $33, according to quality and condition.

LARD OIL—No. 1 Extra is still quoted at 73 to 75 cts in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—Quiet and lower; we now quote at $2,50@3,00 per bbl.

POULTRY—Sales of spring chickens at 50 to 60 cts per pair, as to size.

POTATOES—Sales at $1,50@$2 per bbl. Sweets is steady demand, with regular sales at $6@6,50 per bbl—some dealers quote at $7, but there were few sales made at this figure.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 8¾c; Sugar cured Shoulders, 11c; Breakfast Bacon, 14c. Rib Sides, 11; Clear Rib Sides, 11¼; Clear Sides, 12 c; Sugar Cured Hams, 17½c; Dried Beef, 20c. Lard, in tierces, 10¼c; half bbls, 10⅜c; pails, 11¼c. Mess Pork, $16,00.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is more active and firmer, $3,75@4 per bushel. Flax Seed continues very scarce and crushers are paying $1,80. Little or nothing doing in Clover.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8 to 8¼.

WHISKY—Highwines unchanged at 95@96 cts, in a jobbing way.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 6, 1872.

Crude is quiet and weak and while the tendency is still downward there is no quotable change in prices, as compared with yesterday: $3,25@3,30 per bbl. at Parker, equal to 8⅝@8¾ cts. per gallon here. There was nothing done in refined and, in the absence of sales, we continue yesterdays quotations 23@23¼ spot; and 23½ last half September. Barrels firm and a shade higher; sales of city make reported at $1,90.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE FRIDAY, September 6, 1872.

Trade in pig iron continues quiet, and the market presents no new features worthy of special notice. The demand is still restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, and the operations are confined almost wholly to the common and medium grades, as consumers generally are unwilling to pay the prices demanded for the best brands. For some kinds of iron, particularly mottled and white, the market is, if anything, easier, as there is considerable of this kind offering, while good red short iron is in limited supply both here and at the furnaces, and, in consequence, it is held firmly at full prices.

There is a steadily increasing demand for finished irons and nails, notwithstanding the recent advance, and our manufacturers are all reported as having as many orders as they can fill.

The steel mills are very busy, and unable to catch up with the orders, and prices are very firm with every indication of a still further advance.

Grain—Situation at Chicago.

The leading sensation in produce circles today was the further sharp advance in lake freights, with a scarcity of vessels at that, which threatened to make it exceedingly difficult to move grain to seaboard. The rate insisted upon to-day was equal to very nearly 27c per 100 lbs to Buffalo, making the all rail route at 50c to New York decidedly preferable. And there was a talk of a further advance. Another step, and the cost of carrying a bushel of corn to New York will exceed the cost of the corn here before it is placed in store. No wonder that the conversation on 'Change turned on the situation of 10 and 12 years ago, when corn was burned as fuel within 200 miles of Chicago, and because the shipping charges would have eaten up the entire value of the corn in the hands of the farmers.

The situation is simple, though painful. We have a bounteous yield of grain this year, and limited warehouseing facilities, while stocks of wheat in the east are very light, causing an urgent demand. The vessel owners know this, and are naturally enough willing to take advantage of the situation by putting up freight rates; being all the more willing to do it as they have been mostly unmercifully squeezed for two or three years past, the shipping interest being largely a one man power, and able, therefore, to dictate terms to vessel owners. And it is all the more easy to do it, as the fire burned up vast accumulations of property, both rough and worked up, which must be replaced. Hence an unprecedented demand for vessels to bring hither lumber and stone, and coal, with many other staples needed in the work of rebuilding the city, and ministering to the comforts of its inhabitants. Hence a competition for vessels which has scarcely ever been known in our previous history, and corresponding high freights. If vessels cannot obtain their own terms on grain, they fly off to the lumber trade, proceed to carry iron ore or coal, and the demand for vessels for this class of freight is increasing, while the crops of the west are knocking at our doors, crying out for transportation eastward. There be those who think that under the circumstances, Buffalo freights may advance to 20c, though the railroads shall help all they can. By the by, the power of the railroads is being invoked to a much larger extent than ever before at this season of the year. Fully one-half of the shipments of wheat and oats yesterday were sent by rail.—Tribune, 5th inst.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose some five or six inches at this point yesterday but was about stationary last evening with 28 inches in the channel, according to the old metal marks the Big Beaver River rose 28 inches on Thursday, but was falling again yesterday. The reports from above are not encouraging for a rise. Telegrams from Brownville and Greensboro report the river stationary and weather clear. At Oil City, there were but 14 inches at last accounts and stationary.

—The Wheeling Intelligencer says:

"The steamer Mattie Roberts was attached at Middleport, Ohio, on Thursday last, by Deputy Marshal W. H. Irwin, of this city. On Friday morning a crew was gathered and steam got up, and the Mattie was brought up to Parkersburg in command of 'Captain' Irwin. She was then laid up in the mouth of the little Kanawha, where she will lie until about the 1st. of October, when she will be sold. The trouble is, all the owners want to be captain, and as they could not possibly do that, they placed 'Captain' Irwin in charge, and he will probably dispose of her to some party or parties who will have less trouble to find an acceptable master.

—The New Orleans Picayune of Sunday says: Capt. John W. Cannon took charge of the Katie yesterday and will at once put her in complete order for the cotton trade. Rumor says that she will go to Natchez twice a week. The Frank Pargoud's repairs are almost completed. When finished she will vie with her sister packets in elegance; she will be the regular Thursday packet to Greenville.....The Times says Capt. Cannon has purchased the Katie, and Capt. Wm. Campbell is now commanding the Robt. E. Lee.

—The two rival steamboat lines from St. Louis to St. Paul publish the same list of passage rates; 20 cents to Keokuk, $1 to St. Louis. Neither line seems to weaken, or show signs of doing so. The contest has been going on nearly a month.

—Capt. John N. Bofinger has negotiated for a one-half interest in the fine large sternwheel steamer Belfast, the price and terms being agreed upon. Captain Sedan will retain command, and she will run between Red River and the entire navigable west.

—The Burksville has been chartered by the Louisville and Nashville railroad company She will be immediately placed above the bridge while the Dick Johnston is undergoing repairs, and make the necessary connections with other boats that will ply below the bridge.

—N. B. Pazey, engineer of the Park Painter, was drowned at St. Louis Saturday. He was crossing the river in a yawl with some others of the crew, and by some accident fell out. He leaves a wife and several children.

—The little steamer Bluff City is the only boat now running above Jacksonport, and plies between that place and Pocahontat, where there is 30 inches of water. Upper White river is dead low.

—Amos Gardner and James Randolph arrived at Cincinnati from Cairo Wednesday morning, where they left the Fearless laid up with seven loaded and one empty barge.

—The Ouachita Belle carried 79 bales of new cotton into New Orleans last Wednesday from Greenville, Miss. The C. H. Durfee took in 6 bales from Red river on the same day.

THE Chicago, Danville & Vincennes RAILROAD

Is the shortest line between Chicago and the BLOCK COAL region of Indiana. The importance and success of the road is proved by the fact that since its being opened to coal traffic in January last, it has earned a handsome dividend upon its stock, beside interest on its bonds.

The First Mortgage 7 per cent. Gold Bonds issued by this Company, to an amount of less than $19,000 per mile, have been sold very rapidly during the past few months to Trust Companies, Savings Banks, and the most careful investors. Only a small amount of the loan remains unsold.

The Bonds are for $1,000 each and have thirty years to run. Interest payable April and October. Present price 90 and accrued interest. At present premium on gold, they pay nearly 9 per cent. upon the investment.

[illegible]urer of the Borough of Mill[illegible] at this office and lift a warrant [illegible] one dollar and fifty cents given us in [illegible]ast. We have sent it through five banking houses, and as often has it been returned endorsed "Can't be found." When will small corporations learn to have printed on their warrants the Treasurer's name and where to be paid?

More of It.

Our readers will remember that a few days ago we made mention of a family row wherein Mr. John Johnston had been stabbed in the back by his wife. Yesterday Mr. Johnston appeared before Mayor Callow, and made information against his wife for felonious assault and battery, upon which she was arrested, and in default of $5,000 bail committed to jail for trial.

Iron City College.

It is with no small degree of satisfaction and pride that we direct attention to the numerous testimonials, in another column, from well known prominent business men, to the merits of this deservedly popular and highly successful institution. It enjoys a world-wide fame, honestly and faithfully earned, as every one will testify who is at all familiar with its course of study and method of instruction. We will only add, for the benefit of those not acquainted with its practical workings, that intense thoroughness characterizes all the exercises of the school, and that it is impossible for any young man to graduate there without being an accomplished accountant.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The fall and winter campaign at this establishment will be inaugurated to-day, by an afternoon and evening performance. The bill is attractive and will be found elsewhere. During the recess the Opera House has been thoroughly renovated and refitted in a tasteful manner. A succession of stars is promised for the season of universal brilliancy. As this is the "opening night" of the season we need do little more than mention the fact to draw out a large audience. Messrs. Ellsler and Gotthold are enterprising and intelligent managers, and they are well acquainted with the dramatic tastes of our citizens. We know they will be greeted on their opening by an overflowing house. The matinee should not be forgotten.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—At Fred. Aims' American Theatre this evening the usual attractions peculiar to a Saturday night's performance are announced. There will also be a matinee in the afternoon. Thus far this season, the success of the management has been great and deserved.

THE REPUBLICAN MARCHING CLUBS.

Grant, Wilson, Hartranft and the "Pittsburgh Gazette."

"Hurrah for Grant, Wilson, Hartranft and the loyal old Pittsburgh GAZETTE," was the cry for upwards of an hour last evening by the Republican ward marching clubs of Pittsburgh and Allegheny while passing the GAZETTE office. The contrast between those marching last night and the straggling few who escorted Buckalew the evening previous was quite observable. Every man of them kept time to the music, and they had plenty of it, too. You could tell by their pleasing countenances and the cheer after cheer they sent up, that they knew they were marching in a good cause and on to victory. The Allegheny clubs, which made their appearance on this side for the first time since they "stormed the old battery" four years ago, and took it, looked very fine. They had with them a four-pounder, for any emergency, we presume. The procession was but a foretaste, however, of the grand demonstration on the evening of the 18th inst., when it is expected there will be at least twenty thousand men in line.

SOUTH SIDE RAILROAD.

Meeting of Incorporators at Phillipsburg—Organization of the Company.

A meeting was held at Phillipsburg, Beaver county, on the 2d inst., to promote the construction of a railroad on the south side of the Ohio River from Phillipsburg, or some other point in that vicinity, to Pittsburgh. John R. McDonald, Esq., presided, and J. C. Richie and W. J. Langfit acted as Secretaries. J. P. Fleming, Esq., made a lengthy and effective speech illustrating the advantages to be derived from the new railroad. Mr. Kerr, of Allegheny county, and Rev. W. G. Taylor addressed the meeting. The following persons were then selected as corporators: J. B. McKee, Marshall McDonald, W. J. Langfit, W. B. Anderson, W. G. Taylor, William Cooper, David McDonald.

These corporators met in this city on Wednesday for the purpose of effecting an organization. The following officers were elected: J. P. Fleming, President; David McDonald, Vice President; W. J. Langfit, Treasurer; W. B. Anderson, Secretary; S. S. Ferguson, Solicitor, and Charles A. Cooper, Engineer. It is proposed to organize the company under the general railroad law. The right of way from Phillipsburg to this city has already been obtained, and a considerable amount of stock subscribed. The enterprise bids fair to be carried out to successful completion.

CRIMINAL MATTERS.

AMONG the common cases disposed of yesterday morning by Mayor Blackmore was a man who claimed to be Ned O'Baldwin. He was fined three dollars and costs for drunkenness.

GEORGE SCOTT, colored, was charged yesterday morning before Alderman Armstrong, of Allegheny, by J. W. Campbell, with assault and battery. The defendant, it is alleged, assaulted an infant son of the prosecutor. Warrant issued.

JAS. H. TAYLOR made an information before Alderman McMasters, charging Charles Buckley with assault and battery. Taylor alleges that he went to the house of the defendant and presented him with a bill of a few dollars, when Buckley assaulted with a chair, and knocked him down. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

MRS. ALICE MCDONALD made an information yesterday before Alderman McMasters alleging that Thomas Smith had left her boarding house on Second avenue without paying for two weeks board, and that he had broken into her house at five o'clock in the morning and taken some of his clothes which she had locked up to secure payment of his board. A warrant was issued for Smith.

ALICE MCDONALD appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday morning and made information against Thomas Smith, charging him with the larceny of a pair of pants and a shirt. The parties reside on Second avenue, and the accused works in the Dolly Varden Glass Works. Samuel Reed also appeared before the same magistrate and lodged an information against Mrs. Barbin, charging her with the larceny of a washing machine. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused in either case and placed in the hands of officer Donnovan.

Everything in the line of carriages and buggies at the warerooms of Messrs. Workman & Davis, Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue.

COLORED VOTERS' RALLY.

A Grand Demonstration—Marching Clubs in Line—A Brilliant Display—Eloquent Addresses by Hon. W. D. Foster, Gen. J. S. Negley and Maj. A. M. Brown.

The Republican Mass meeting held last evening at the corner of Webster avenue and Fulton street, proved to be a success, and one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the campaign. It was even larger in point of numbers than the meeting held there some days ago. The street for a great distance on all sides of the stand was one live mass of people. There must have been fully four thousand people present, and throughout the entire meeting the greatest enthusiasm was manifested.

There was probably the largest number of colored voters present that have been been brought together at any meeting in this city for some time. There was also a brilliant display of marching clubs, all uniformed and bearing torches. The Second, Eleventh and Seventh Wards' Grant and Wilson clubs (white), and the Eleventh ward Grant and Wilson, the Grand Central, and Duquesne clubs (colored), were present.

Shortly after eight o'clock the meeting was called to order by Lemuel Googins, Esq., who read the following list of officers:

President—Rev. John Peck.

Vice Presidents—Messrs. Samuel Robinson, George R. Knox, Lewis F. Woodson, George B. Chalmers, Joseph Barclay, Wm. H. Simpson, H. W. Oliver, Jr., Jacob H. Walter, Charles Martin, Barney Mahoney, David Reed, Lemuel Googins, Hugh McNeil, A. D. Johnston, S. Beymer, A. G. McCandless, M. D., W. A. Lewis, Hon. A. P. Callow, Joseph M. Gazzam, W. B. Hunter.

Secretaries—Reporters of the press.

Mr. Peck (colored), on taking the chair made a few introductory remarks in which he spoke of the Fifteenth amendment, which had conferred upon his race the freedom which they now enjoy. For this blessing they were indebted to the Republican party. He was sure that the colored people knew who were their friends, and would stand by them with their ballots. Mr. Peck then introduced Hon. W. D. Forten (colored), of Philadelphia.

SPEECH OF HON. W. D. FORTEN.

Mr. Forten commenced his remarks by saying that he had been traveling and speaking a great deal lately and was really not in very good condition to speak. We had come here this evening to testify our willingness and determination to stand by our Country and our Country's defenders, come what may. The 15,000 men in Pennsylvania were determined to stand by the party that had given them their liberty. They would not be so base as to forget their friends; they would support them with their ballots and if necessary with their bullets. [Applause.]

They would support the Republican party as a matter of duty, because that party had done so much for them. We are a great country. Our fathers have won for themselves the immortality of fame by their enunciations of principles that made kings and despots tremble. These principles have come to us as inheritants of our fathers. They appeal to us to vindicate them from the approaching tyranny. Those principles which our ancestors have advocated in theory the Republicans have made practicable.

While Sumner and Phillips have, by their eloquence, advocated these principles of liberty, and demanded justice to the oppressed, at last we have found a man who, without speeches, without proclamations, has put in practice the theories which these men have advocated for the last thirty years. That man is General Grant. [Applause.] All that Charles Sumner has asked for in principle, Grant has carried out in fact.

I speak to you as men, as associates, as soldiers who have gone forth under the banner of our country to protect their great principles with your lives—to sustain with your ballots what you have already accomplished with your bullets. [Applause.] There can be no doubt of victory in this conflict, and Grant will be our next President. [Cheers.] One hundred thousand would rise from their graves if any other voice went up from old Allegheny county.

As soldiers you have met the enemies of our constitution, and rebellion has been laid in its grave. For ten years you have gone up to the polls and defeated a party that had dared to sustain the rebellion. Like the mouse that fell into the vat of ale, they at last cry out for help—even willing to accept help from that old cat from New York. But like the mouse in the story, when rescued they have holes to go into, and in those holes lie repudiation of the national debt, and pensioning rebel soldiers.

He appealed to the members of his race, not only as colored voters, but knowning that in America there is but one color, and that the color impressed upon our flag—the only rights, the rights of citizenship, and these all the rights that a President can claim.

Before we had a Republican party we had only legislated in the interests of commerce and manufacturers. Since we have been led by such men as the late lamented Lincoln the rights of men had been considered.

The speaker had lately received a letter from an eloquent and able Judge of Pennsylvania, who, for thirty years, had worked and voted with the Democratic party. He wrote that now he was asked to sleep in the same couch with a life-long Abolitionist. He declared that he wouldn't stand it, but would vote for a man whose position he was certain of—and that man was Grant.

The Democrats often came to him and asked him if he couldn't go with them, and vote for Greeley, who had always been an Abolitionist. He related the anecdote of the negro in North Carolina, who, when approached with similar arguments, replied that he had read in a book that the devil was once in heaven; "but," says the colored man, "Where is he now?" We know what he used to be, but we don't belong to the "used-to be party; but the question is what is he now? We have nothing to do with last year's almanacs. When they used to say that Grant was once a Democrat he (the speaker) replied that he was glad he is not one now; and if Greeley was once a Republican he certainly is not now.

The speaker gave an account of the election riots in Philadelphia one year ago, in the same ward where he resided. He himself had helped to carry away fifteen wounded men—struck down because they dared to maintain their rights at the ballot box. Democrats are now asking colored men to vote for their candidate.

He would acknowledge the services that Horace Greeley had rendered the colored people, but while he had advocated the theory of freedom others had acted and thus accomplished the great end in view. But now Greeley had wandered into very bad company and they could not follow him. Greeley was the most fickle and changeable man he ever knew. He had advocated all the "isms" that had ever existed. He had preached the doctrine of State's rights and now he was acting with the party who advocated the principles of free trade. The speaker urged the importance of securing protection to our manufacturies from foreign competition, and secure a good market at home. To accomplish this we should support a party that will sustain American industries. We are indebted to the Republican party for what it has done for the Nation. Principles not men should be our motto, we should support any man who properly represents the great principles of the Republican party.

We are in honor bound to sustain Gen. Hartranft, who represents these principles. They tell us that General Hartranft cannot make a speech. Ask the rebels, who felt the force of his right arm in the field, what kind of speeches he can make. If he can serve his country in the field, he can serve it in a civil office. We are going to have General Hartranft for our next Governor. [Applause.] Philadelphia will give Hartranft five thousand votes. With Grant, Wilson and Hartranft upon our banner, success is certain.

The speaker referred to the Republican victories achieved in North Carolina, West Virginia and Vermont, and thought that these elections had already made Grant's success a certainty. He urged the voters not to pause at this point when an overwhelming victory was so near.

He next spoke of the record of Buckalew, and said that we could not afford to elect him Governor of the great State of Pennsylvania. He promised the people of his race would support the Republican party—a party that had extended so many benefits to the colored race. They would stand by the party which had been their friend, and with Grant and Wilson on the national ticket, and Hartranft and Allen on the State ticket, they would march on to victory.

At the close of his address three hearty cheers were given for the speaker.

General Negley was then introduced and made a brief address. He was followed by A. M. Brown, Esq., who made an able address for half an hour. Mr. Carson (colored) was then called for, but owing to the lateness of the hour, spoke but a few moments. The meeting then adjourned with three rousing cheers for the Republican candidates.

ACCIDENTAL.

A Couple of Casualities—A Bricklayer Injured—A Little Child Falls from a Balcony.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. John McCann, a bricklayer, residing on Irwin avenue, Allegheny, met with a severe accident. He was at work in a sewer on Jackson street, near Federal, when one of the laborers attending him started to descend the ladder with a hod filled of bricks. As he stepped upon the ladder, however, he tripped, and as a result the bricks were emptied into the excavation and fell upon Mr. McCann, who was knocked senseless. He was taken out as quickly as possible and a physician summoned. When he returned to consciousness it was found that he had been severely wounded on the head, but otherwise had escaped serious injury. Dr. B. B. Smith dressed the wound, after which the man was taken home.

About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a little child three years of age, daughter of Solomen Kauffman was playing on the balcony attached to her father's residence, corner of Ledlie and Arch streets, Allegheny, when it by some means toppled over the railing and fell to the pavement below. The child was picked up insensible, and Dr. Walter Ure was summoned, under whose treatement it recovered consciousness. It was still suffering last evening, but the physicians thought the shock would not prove serious.

A PRACTICAL JOKE.

A Committee Endowed with Wonderful Powers—They Propose to Act According to Instructions—Looking for a Site for a New Lock-up.

At a recent meeting of Councils, when the complaints against the bad location of the present Council Chambers were particularly loud and deep, a resolution was offered by Mr. Watson, as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of five, three from Common and two from Select, be appointed to inquire into the feasibility of removing the council chambers from their present position, and that they be instructed to procure suitable ground for Mayor's office, lock-up and council chambers above, and report the facts back to these councils.

The presentation of the resolution occasioned some levity among our municipal legislators, but it was nevertheless formally and finally passed in both branches, and the Committee appointed in accordance therewith—Messrs. Watson, Rafferty, Johns, Semple and Herron being named. The matter was by many considered in the light of a good practical joke, but the members of the Committee thought otherwise, and yesterday assembled to take into consideration the business referred to them. They were somewhat astonished, upon a re-perusal of the resolution to find that they had been instructed to purchase a site, but were not in the least disconcerted, and after discussing the matter, made a step forward in their duties by adopting the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, By resolution passed finally by the councils August 26th, this committee was instructed to purchase a site for a lock up, Mayors office, and council chambers, and report the fact to councils, therefore

Resolved, That a sub-committee of three, in conjunction with the chairman, be appointed to select a suitable site for a building for this purpose and negotiate for the purchase of the same, and report the result of their labors to the next meeting of the committee.

In accordance with this paper, Messrs. Rafferty, Herron and Semple were appointed the sub-committee.

The clerk was further instructed to advertise in the official papers for proposals for a site to be handed in until the 20th inst.

While deliberating over the matter the Committee discussed several offers of sites which had been made. One on Seventh street, 90 by 120 feet, for $20,000, another, somewhat smaller, on Ross street, back of the jail, for the same price, a third in the rear of the present Municipal Hall, and a fourth on Centre avenue. The first offer seemed to engage their particular attention, and they adjourned in a body to make an inspection of the location named. Their advertisement will appear on Monday, and they express a determination to go ahead without delay in the business assigned them.

PERSONAL.

Robinson Brothers, bankers, advertise this morning for good securities.

General Cass has been elected President of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

George B. Edwards and family will return from Cresson, where they have been spending the summer, to-day.

George B. Hill will open the new banking house next week. Mr. Hill we consider one of the most reliable financiers in the city.

Samuel Randall, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, was in the city yesterday. He looked careworn and down in the mouth.

Montgomery Blair, in order to get up some enthusiasm when speaking, returns to the days when he was a member of the beloved Lincoln's Cabinet. "Alas! how the mighty have fallen."

A Meritorious Invention.

If there ever was an invention that was meritorious, the American Button-hole and Overseaming Machine comes up to that standard. Though not put upon the market so soon as some others, it was not long before its merits became known, and it took a front rank in popular favor. Its simplicity of construction is a strong point in its favor, as is thereby not rendered so liable to get out of order, and is also much more easily managed by the operator. Then, too, the Button hole attachment is another special feature of the machine which will commend it to all seamstresses, for this is one of the greatest inventions connected with the sewing machine.

The agent, Mr. James Espy, has a fine assortment of all styles of the American, at No. 178 Liberty street, and it would pay all in need of a sewing machine to give him a call.

Fall Suits.

Mr. Thomas Scandrett, No. 245 Liberty sereet, has just received a fine lot of cloths suitable for fall suits, which he is prepared to make up to fill the orders of his patrons on the most reasonable terms. The advantage in purchasing at this house is the fact that Mr. Scandrett keeps only good material on hand—no shoddy article—and that you can get a suit stylish in make up, comfortable in fit, and one that will wear well, too, without being fleeced and compelled to pay exorbitant prices. He has ample facilities for filling all orders promptly, and we guarantee all who call there for a suit will be well suited.

Mr. Henry Pratt, the Allegheny hatter, has just returned from the East with a fresh assortment of goods, comprising all the latest styles in gentlemen's hats and caps. Some of the new styles he has brought on cannot be obtained elsewhere hereabouts. If you want a stylish article, call at 107 Federal street, Allegheny, and make a purchase to-day.

Messrs. Heckert & McKain do not claim that the "Florence" is the only sewing machine in the market, but they do claim that for all the practical purposes of family sewing it has no superior. They only wish it tried even where others have not given satisfaction, and feel sure that it will be found to be all that it is represented. Their office is at No. 8 Sixth street, near the Suspension Bridge.

One great advantage of the "Florence" sewing machine is the fact that it is so easily operated, and that learners have very little difficulty in acquiring a control over it. Wherever it has been tried it has recommended itself, and needs no puffing. The general office of the agents' is at No. 8 Sixth street, and ladies who have not yet made a purchase should call in and see the Florence at work.

Many who have suffered for years with rupture and womb disease have been permanently cured by Dr. Reechinbach, No. 11 Market street.

All varieties of ornaments in the line of jewelry and silver ware may be had at reasonable rates at Orr's, No. 114 Federal street, Allegheny.

Fine Gold Rings of every description at S. M. Orr's, No. 114 Federal street, Allegheny.

The Sixteenth Ward Grant Club

Meets to-night in the new Wigwam on Penn avenue, opposite Fortieth street, to make the necessary arrangements to have it formally opened for the campaign, and to take steps looking towards the great Convention on the 17th inst. This is the largest and most complete structure that has been erected during this campaign, and it is hoped that when the formal opening takes place all the marching clubs of the city will be on hand. Let the Sixteenth ward men turn out lively to-night.

Third Ward Banner Club.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Third Ward, Allegheny Banner Club of colored Republicans assembled at their headquarters in Allegheny, last evening at 8 o'clock. The President, S. A. Neale, occupied the chair, and Captain S. J. Wilkinson acted as Secretary, pro tem. The Chairman of the Executive Committee Wm. A. Rosier, reported progress relative to the collection of means to equip the Marching Club. Decisive action was taken relative to the matter and an earnest appeal will be made, through solicitors to the generous citizens of the Third Ward to give assistance. The President stated that over 200 colored voters are now enrolled on the Secretary's book, and the Registering Committee would bring a large number of young men who would cast their first ballot this fall. B. F. Pulpress, Esq., Chairman of Committee on equipments presented his report which was approved. After speeches by Messrs. Douglass, Rione, Wilkinson and Neale, Mr. Pulpress offered a resolution that a Committee of three be appointed to wait on W. D. Forten, Esq., and invite him to address a political meeting of the citizens of Allegheny, early next week. The resolution was passed, and Messrs. Pulpress, Douglass and the President of the club were appointed. The club then adjourned to meet at Baptist Hall, Monday evening, September 9th, at seven o'clock.

Republican Meeting in Indiana Township—Speeches by Messrs. G. M. McMasters and J. S. Lambie.

A Grant, Wilson and Hartranft meeting was held at Hoboken, Indiana township, on Thursday evening with the following officers: President, Jas. B. Powers; Vice Presidents, Messrs. John McDonald, O. H. Darlington, John B. Beatty, James Armstrong and John T. Hoak; Secretary, P. S. Duganne.

In the absence of the President, Mr. John McDonald called the meeting to order in a few timely remarks, and regretting the inclemency of the weather, which prevented many from attending, introduced G. M. McMasters, Esq. Mr. McMasters' speech was full of plain truths, and was listened to with much interest and attention. In the course of his address, he gave a short history of General Hartranft, and the way he voted during the war, beginning at the first Bull Run, 1871, and ending at Richmond, April 2d, 1865. Just twenty-three ballots. A record which any man should be proud of.

J. S. Lambie, Esq., being next introduced, opened his speech with a glowing tribute to the soldiers who stood between their country and the enemy, related some amusing anecdotes, then briefly rehearsed Mr. Buckalew's course in voting against increasing the soldiers' pay from thirteen to sixteen dollars a month, whilst at the same time was receiving eight dollars a day, and voting himself a further increase of salary.

Mr. Lambie's speech was loudly applauded and gave general satisfaction, as did McMasters'. Both gentlemen possessing the happy faculty of making an addres that can be understood by all, and leaving out the abuse of persons and party, which so many public speakers delight in.

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

Just as it Should Be.

Always taking a pride in the success of any home institution, it is with pleasure that we learn that the prospects indicate a large increase in the attendance at the Pittsburgh Female College for the Fall term, which opens next Tuesday. Letters have been pouring in from East, West, North and South, and the capacities of the college for accommodating pupils in the Boarding Department are certain to be taxed to the uttermost, while there has also been a very large increase in the number of applications from "day pupils," those who secure accommodations outside the college among friends. It would be well for those who desire to secure places for their daughters at the college to make immediate application, as delay may cause them to come in too late.

We are glad to note these evidences of the prosperity of this widely known and justly famed educational institution, and congratulate Dr. Pershing and his large and superior corps of assistants upon the high appreciation in which the College is held by the cultured mass of the people, wherever it is known. But had this success not been attained we would have lost all faith in the perfect discipline and thoroughness of teaching, which have been the characteristics of the institution.

NEW STYLES.

The Fashions in Carriages and Buggies.

Messrs. Workman & Davis, Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn street, are now turning out some very fine work in the carriage line. They have several new styles on hand, and will continue to introduce others as fast as they can get them up. The firm employs only skillful workmen, and use the very best material that can be got, so that all their work can be depended on as being first class, and it only needs the examination of any one wishing to purchase a carriage of any kind, either at their Repository, on Penn street, or at their extensive shops on Arch street, Allegheny, to be convinced that they can get just as good and well finished vehicles from them as could be wished for. They also deal in Eastern made work, so as to accommodate any one who might prefer that kind of work to our home made article. Those who extend this firm their patronage cannot fail to be pleased either with the work or prices.

"Can't do Without it."

This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the MUSTANG LINIMENT. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c., which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, in sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During the period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tiedoloreux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.
T.TH.S.S.

Public Meeting of Citizens.

Saturday evening, September 7th, 1872, at 7 o'clock, at the Third ward school-house on Grant street. All those opposed to the infamous bargain entered into by a large number of our City Councilmen with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to vacate the very important streets of Grant and Washington, and also to purchase property and to build abutments for bridges for the accommodation of that corporation, are requested to assemble and act with promptness before this foul measure is consummated.
MANY CITIZENS.

Prices 15 to 25 per cent. lower than the East. All work warranted. Address C. COLEMAN & SON,

Fall Clothing

A prudent regard for health, as well as a due consideration for comfort, will suggest the providing for one's self and family clothing less light than that worn in the sultry days of summer, yet not so heavy as will be required when the thermometer descends to the small figures. This can be secured by making your purchases at the store of Messrs Hespenheide & Co, No. 50 Sixth street, hear Penn. In making your purchases of fall clothidg do not forget to give this firm a call.

Novelties.

Among the novel styles on exhibition at the popular one price hat store of Wm. Fleming & Co., No. 139 Wood street, are the Emerson and Moslem hats, both of which are attractive, and will be fashionable.

The Dilworth Property To-Day.

Remember the sale to-day (Saturday) at half past one o'clock, of Mr. Wm. Dilworth's property on the New Brighton road. A. Leggate, auctioneer.

Messrs. Workman & Davis keep fully abreast of the times, and in the pattern, finish and durability of their goods admit of no superior. As they are home manufacturers, we feel proud of their success, and advise all our readers to patronize them for anything in the line of buggy, carriage or wagon work. Their works are at Nos. 46 and 48 Arch street, Allegheny, and their bazaar Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue.

If you want a watch for the vest pocket, or a clock for the home, go to Orr's, No. 114 Federal street, Allegheny, and select from the large stock you will find there.

SETTLING THE DIFFERENCES.

Special Meeting of the County Executive Committee—Letter from Major Denniston—A Compromise Effected.

A special meeting of the Allegheny County Republican Executive Committee was held yesterday afternoon, Dr. Gross in the chair. There was a large attendance and there was some excitement on the business for which the meeting was called—a settlement of the differences between the two committees having charge of the demonstrations to be made on the Seventeenth and Eighteenth of September.

Before going into the special business, the Secretary was directed by the chairman to read the following letter, in which was enclosed a check for $100:

HELENA, MONTANA TER., August 26, 1872.

Dr. A. H. Gross, Chairman Republican Executive Committee:

DEAR SIR—Regretting that the state of my health prevents me from returning home to take an active part in the campaign, I enclose herewith a check for my mite toward the expenses of your committee, sincerely hoping that you may be entirely successful in electing our whole ticket. Having had close business relations with General Hartranft for four years, I have the highest regard for his integrity and qualifications, and have always denied from my own knowledge of the man the slanderous imputations attempting to cast odium and discredit on this gallant soldier and honorable man. It was, therefore, with sincere pleasure that I read the letter of Hon. D. N. White, a gentleman of high reputation and thorough knowledge of the subject, confirming, in the clearest and most satisfactory manner, the opinions I have always held.

It is painful that the straits of the opposition push them to defamation of character, thus apparently putting honest men on the defence; but the letter of Mr. White should certainly convince all honest men that the gallant soldier, than whom none in the State have a prouder record, can withstand the many temptations of official position, and is certainly more entitled to the honor of their confidence than he who opposed the volunteer soldiers' right to vote, and in every way he could, "bent" the law to trammel our cause in our long struggle for national unity.

If my health continues to improve, I will be home to vote for Grant, Wilson and Hartranft. In the mean time I send this stipend to help keep the ball rolling.

Very truly yours,
J. F. DENNISTON.

The reading of the letter was received with applause.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting, after which a long discussion occurred, which ended, however, in the placing of the sole charge of the arrangement for the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention, the torch-light procession and the daylight demonstration. It was decided to hold a torch-light procession only only on the night of the 18th. After some further business of an unimportant nature, the meeting adjourned with good feeling, and all resolved to work for the complete success of the demonstration.

Mr. Newell will be in the office, No. 255, from 9 till 2 o'clock daily to consult with parents and to receive applications for the next term. Full information regarding the course of study, &c., in the catalogue, to be had in the Book and Music stores of both cities. The Principal employs the best teachers, and guarantees thorough and efficient work.

Queen of the Road.

Among the great variety of plain and stylish carriages to be always seen at the extensive Bazaar of C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, will be found an improved patent Buck Wagon, quite peculiar in construction, very light, very strong and very cheap; the spring is unusually strong, and yet so flexible and its motions so easy and gentle, that we feel sure they will grow rapidly into popular favor and pove to be, as they are called, the "Queen of the Road." Orders for them arecoming in rapidly.

THE STOMACH AS AN AVENGER.

For every breach of the laws of health that we commit the stomach inflicts a penalty. Headache, biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, colic, heartburn, nausea, debility and mental depression are only a few of the punishments which an outraged stomach is capable of imposing upon us. To bring back this vengeful organ to its normal condition—to placate, invigorate and regulate it—there is nothing in the wide world so potent as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the operation of this beneficent vegetable corrective and tonic the gastric juice becomes a pure and healthful solvent and resumes its natural flow. The effect is the same on the biliary secretion, and in fact on all the fluids of the body, and the final result is the removal of every painful or unpleasant symptom occasioned by the rebellious action of the digestive organ.
